

The Learning Centers for Children, Inc.

Dyslexia is estimated to affect more than 2 million school-age children in the United States.

The Learning Centers for Children, Inc. is a not-for-profit corporation dedicated to helping kids with dyslexia.

The center is funded by the Scottish Rite Masonry and charitable donations, with no public aid.

The focus is on helping kids with dyslexia in a one-on-one tutoring situation. All of the tutors are certified as Orton-Gillingham tutors. The children receive the service at no cost on a first-come-first served basis.

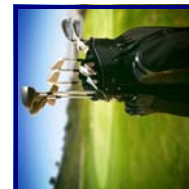

Your participation in this golf outing helps Learning Centers for Children train more tutors and gives Central Indiana kids a chance to improve their reading...and their lives.
